

CHINA PAINT MEDIA:

Water Soluble line:

Vogue media are water soluble, non-toxic, easy to clean up and combatable with all china paint powders. They have been specially formulated from only top quality ingredients to give a smooth, silky texture to your paint. Media are packaged in plastic one-ounce bottles with screw tops and flip-top spouts for easy use and are color tinted for easy identification. Medias are also available by the pint. Vogue media, designed to meet the needs of discerning doll and porcelain artists.

VM001 - Mixing Medium: A heavy weight, open, water based medium is tinted Pink for easy identification. This medium is great for pre-mixing your china paint powders. If kept in air-tight containers it will remain open almost indefinitely.

VM002 - Area Medium: A little heavier than Painting Medium, with an extended open time is tinted Blue for easy identification. This medium is wonderful for achieving denser color per application. Use for general painting and conditioning porcelain bisque.

VM003 - Fine Line Medium: A very fluid and lightweight water based medium is tinted Lavender for easy identification. Dries a little quicker and is excellent for those long fine lines and detail strokes in dollmaking (lashes & brows) and decorative design work.

VM004 - Painting Medium: A medium weight medium with extended open time is tinted Aqua for easy identification. It is silky smooth, and good for overall painting and conditioning of porcelain bisque.

NOTE: All Vogue water based media are combatable with one another and can be mixed to achieve just the right consistency for your specific needs. Climate conditions vary from coast-to-coast, and country to country, ranging from very humid to very dry conditions and our individual conditions sometimes requires us to “tweak” our media for the optimum in painting performance. These uniquely formulated media allow us the versatility and workability we desire.

Oil based line:

For those who have not made the move to water soluble media we produce these two media for your doll production. Although they are wonderful media we highly recommend that you try our water soluble media. We think you will find that they work very much like oil media in the versatility that they provide for your doll painting.

VM005 - Mixing Oil: A combination of the finest, light colored, open oils on the market. This wonderful medium allows those who prefer an oil based medium to mix their colors and keep them open in a china pallet indefinitely.

VM006 – Painting Oil: Fine dark oils with organic turpentine’s added to increase the drying time and allow your color to set on your doll before firing.
